

14 May 2014

Chen Wei: The Stars in the Night Sky

12 May-12 Jun, Arts, Exhibitions, Head On Photo Festival, Photography, St Leonards

The young Chinese artist gets his first solo showing in Sydney

Sydney Morning Herald critic John McDonald curates this exhibition of work by young Chinese photomedia artist Chen Wei, at Sydney's newest contemporary Chinese art venue: the Australia China Art Foundation (ACAF) Art Terminal in St Leonards. Wei's gorgeous eye for colour and his sense of the theatrical come through in many of the tableaux presented here – as does a sly sense of humour. McDonald writes of the artist: "Chen Wei suggests that entropy is our destiny, with all our strivings doomed to end in a shambles. But if this is the human condition, there is no point in despairing. We can still watch fate unfold not with gloom but with humour."

Chen Wei 'The Stars in the Night Sky are Innumerable' (2010), cropped.

Sign up to our monthly Arts newsletter

First published on 14 May 2014. Updated on 15 May 2014.

By Time Out Sydney editors | Follow

Like 0 Tweet 3 +1 0 Pin it Share 1

Chen Wei: The Stars in the Night Sky are Innumerable details

ACAF Art Terminal T1

Address
62 Atchison St
9-11 Atchison St & 68
Atchison St
St Leonards 2065

Date 12 May-12 Jun

Chen Wei: The Stars in the Night Sky are Innumerable website
ACAF Art Terminal T1 details

Transport
Nearby Stations: St Leonards

ACAF Art Terminal T1 map

